“District 204 needs strong and accountable leaders on their board right now. Our endorsed candidates all exhibited qualities that will bring accountability, reform, respect and unity to our community,” said NACPAC Chairman, Jeff Davis. “We need leaders who put the entire community first and will come to the Board willing to listen, compromise and be excellent stewards for our children. Our endorsed candidates demonstrated those qualities to NACPAC.”

NACPAC noted it had concerns about four candidates, Huang, Doug DiFusco, Eric Hepburn and Don Muscato running as a slate.

“The candidates on the slate are, individually, smart and involved people with some interesting ideas. But the notion of a slate is troubling in that it would provide a majority of the votes on the board to a group of people who were on the same talking points and platform” Culloton said. “District 204 has a lot of issues, people are still recovering from a divisive fight over the third high school and the slate members would have been better off making their cases individually.”
